

Laboratory Information for Fetal Chromosome Testing/Amniocentesis/CVS

Every insurance provider and every insurance plan is different. It is your responsibility to contact your insurance to find out if chromosome testing is a covered benefit in your plan. Your insurance card should have a number to call to contact your insurance company.

Different insurances contract with certain laboratories for certain tests. Please ask them what laboratories are “in-network” for your specific plan. We will try to ensure your tests are sent to an “in-network” laboratory. Not all laboratories do chromosome testing – please be specific when you ask them about laboratories.

Listed below are some laboratories that our office utilizes.

If your insurance company will not cover the test – please ask if they will apply the amount you will pay to your in-network or out of network deductible. You can contact the specific laboratory to ask them about pricing of the tests.

Our office will also bill you for the procedure. Below in the table are the CPT codes that will be used from our office, however because the reason for the procedure varies with each patient we can not provide with you all of the CPT/ICD-9 codes that might be used.

We are providing this information to you as a service. It is the patient’s responsibility to contact their insurance company about coverage of certain tests/procedures.
